Rogers Plans Talks With 20 Nations

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time in less than a month Secretary of State William P. Rogers is going to New York and a luxurious suite in one of America's most prestigious hotels.

But instead of a three-day vacation spent lounging in the Waldorf-Astoria Towers, Rogers will see officials of at least 20 nations as he reaches out for two of the Nixon administration's most cherished diplomatic goals—continued United Nations membership for Nationalist China and an interim Middle East settlement.

Important as these goals may be to Rogers, there is no firm evidence he is close to either, although State Department officials are constantly maintaining a positive tone.

His goal for the Middle East is reopening the Suez Canal as a temporary agreement between Egypt and Israel that could serve as a first step toward a permanent settlement.

Rogers' next Mideast move comes Thursday when he sees Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban for the second time since the secretary opened his bilateral talks just over three weeks ago.

The Eban meeting assumed increased importance after Rogers met Thursday with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad. Spokesmen for both leaders said the two had settled previous disagreements and narrowed differences, but there was no detailing of what differences.

Perhaps most significant was an apparent negative Israeli attitude.

The night before the Rogers-Riad meeting, Israeli Premier Golda Meir criticized Rogers' Oct. 4 speech to the General Assembly.

Mrs. Meir said the six so-called ideas put forth by Rogers as containing the germ of an interim settlement had encouraged Egypt to maintain an intransigent position.

And as late as last Sunday, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said as he left to visit Moscow that the latest U.S. effort was "giving Israel all she wants."

Through all the vague statements, Rogers has maintained both sides still want the United States to continue its role.

Also continuing for the secretary will be his drive to keep the Nationalist Chinese in the U.N., while supporting membership for the Communist mainland.

The China question will dominate Rogers' conversations this week as it did his earlier New York visits.

The key to the American effort is a resolution maintaining expulsion of a member requires a two-thirds margin, not a simple majority.

According to U.S. officials, the vote on the "important question" move will be very close, but they say there is a great deal of reason to hope for success.

Union Group Meets Here

Local 1091 of the United Auto Workers of America held its quarterly meeting Oct. 14 at Union Hall, 1712 South Elm Street.

Board members are Janita Powell, president; Robert Young, vice-president; Johnny Rosenbaum, financial secretary; Bessie Crane, recording secretary; Nell Cobb and Jay Whitney, and Van Burns, trustees; F.L. Reynolds, sergeant at arms; Elmer Bill Ward, guide.

Representative Otis Womack was guest speaker.

Resigns From Bumpers' Staff

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Robert Brier, who had worked in Gov. Dale Bumpers' office for about four months, resigned Monday.

His resignation was effective immediately.

Says Special Interests Use Ecology

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland says a new and closer look should be taken at environmental protection laws because, he claims, ecology crusaders are stymieing important public-works projects.

"Special-interest groups, invoking the ecology theme, are holding up badly needed governmental projects," the Mississippi Democrat said. His ire was raised by a court decision delaying construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway—a ruling Eastland described as "judicial tyranny."

That action temporarily blocked construction of a 235-mile, concrete-lined waterway between the Tombigbee and Tennessee rivers.

A preliminary injunction was issued against the project, holding the Environmental Defense Fund made a substantial showing that the Army Corps of Engineers failed to comply with the environmental act.

Eastland, chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, also cited court action against the Calvert Cliffs, Md., atomic power plant in which a District of Columbia Court of Appeals said the Atomic Energy Commission made a mockery of the environmental act.

Although the court did not halt the project, it ordered the AEC to revise its rules on atomic power plant construction because, the court said, the agency had been slow in implementing EPA rules and had misinterpreted provisions of the act.

The Environmental Protection Act of 1969 requires that an environmental impact statement accompany major federal projects through the decision-making process.

"Everybody is in favor of protecting the environment," Eastland said, "but this business of yelling 'ecology' every time we get ready for a new project has got to stop."

"Many of these (court) suits are in the vital field of public power. Any delay along these lines could mean serious consequences for our already overworked power system."

The committee-approved bill's major feature would be creation of a consumer-protection agency.

Break up a dice game by throwing eight sevens in a row. Write a wrong. Throw a monkey wrench into the machinery.

to put it together, a bill to build a new governmental loudspeaker for the consumer's voice is headed for its toughest test on the House floor.

Following stage-setting debate today, decisions are due Wednesday on the consumer-protection proposal that has generated intense and often bitter personal friction between Ralph Nader, the nation's best-known consumer advocate, and Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., of the Government Operations Committee.

Nader accuses Holifield of going along with an alliance of most committee Republicans and a minority of Democrats in creating what Nader calls "a consumer fraud" by gutting stronger original legislation. Holifield insists his committee produced a good bill full of legal strength.

A key amendment is being recommended by 15 of the 23 Democrats and two of the 16 Republicans on the committee. They seek to broaden the proposed consumer-protection agency's authority to represent consumers in proceedings of other federal agencies. Other proposed amendments would limit the consumer agency's powers.

"The art of legislation," says Holifield in defense of his committee's work, "is the art of obtaining the possible I think this is a good bill, a strong bill in many ways."

But Nader, saying he has the support of Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., is urging the House to strengthen the measure and create "a bill for the vast number of millions of unrepresented American consumers who need representation before federal regulatory agencies."

In an eleven-hour appeal for support for "a single strengthening amendment" backed by the 17 committee members, Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., told colleagues:

"Despite all the rhetoric that the committee-reported bill is adequate, the fact remains that the leading experts on administrative law have concluded that the CPA, under the language of the committee bill, will be excluded from most agency matters of importance to consumers."

Their amendment would let the new agency intervene in more so-called adjudicatory proceedings—the agency process for formulating orders—and conduct reviews of informal proceedings.

The committee-approved bill's major feature would be creation of a consumer-protection agency.

They Won't Wait: Youth Is the Time to Really Make Dream Come True

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Youth is the time for man to go on gold-argosies and make his true dreams come true.

Otherwise, middle age becomes a kind of prison for the would-be adventurer. His argosies turn into armchair travels and his visions into tired daydreams that thrill him less each passing year.

His fantasies may even harden into a ritual as routine and commonplace as his other habits.

So if you're under 40, now is the time to win those dream goals. For example, you might catch a pickled herring. Lay a rumor to rest. Humble a pride of lions.

Sweep up a sweepstakes prize. Find out where your bread is buttered.

Go surfing with Helen Hayes. Bring home not only the bacon but a little caviar, too.

Red Leaders in Egypt for Talks

By ROGER LEDDINGTON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's top leaders and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt opened talks today on the new U.S. proposal for an interim Middle East settlement.

Sadat is also believed to be seeking more military hardware from the Soviets to counter the possibility that the United States may resume arms shipments to Israel.

The Egyptian president arrived in Moscow Monday for intensive discussion with the Kremlin leadership but delayed the talks until today.

Egypt's official Middle East news agency said Sadat postponed his first session with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to discuss the U.S. plan with his foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad, who conferred last week with U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, arrived in Moscow from New York late Monday afternoon.

The six-point proposal put forward by Rogers last week is aimed at spurring an agreement to reopen the Suez Canal, but Rogers emphasized that he considers it a step toward an over-all settlement between Israel and the Arabs.

Riad has strong reservations about an interim agreement, fearing such a temporary solution might turn into a permanent situation that would leave the basic Arab-Israeli conflict unresolved.

Pravda, Izvestia and Tass all published the same article expressing hope that Sadat's visit will "strengthen further the friendship and all-around cooperation between the two nations in the interests of joint struggle against imperialism, for freedom, independence and social progress."

In another development, reliable military sources in Tel Aviv reported that two MIG23s, the Soviet Union's most advanced warplanes, made their operational debut in the Middle East theater on Sunday with a brief flight near the southwest Israeli coast.

The sources said Israeli aircraft attempted to intercept the planes "and came close enough to make positive identification."

GIs Balk at Patrol, Are Withdrawn

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The five U.S. soldiers who balked at going on a night ambush patrol last weekend were withdrawn today from Fire Base Pace along with the rest of their 100-man company.

Maj. Gen. Jack J. Wagstaff, commander of U.S. forces in the 3rd Military Region, said he had replaced the company at the artillery base on the Cambodian border "because of all this goddam flak, the possible harm it could do to company morale and in line with normal rotation policy."

Wagstaff said no disciplinary action would be taken against the five reluctant GIs because "nothing was violated."

"There was never any confrontation, never any refusal," the general said. "There was never an opportunity. The only refusal, if you want to call it that, is that they told a newsman they weren't going to go."

The five men were members of Bravo Company, 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry, 3rd Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division.

Wagstaff said that shortly after the order was given for the night ambush patrol Saturday, the five men were preparing their equipment for the mission when an unidentified reporter came into their bunker.

"In the course of this conversation the men said they were scheduled for a patrol but that they weren't going," Wagstaff continued.

"That evening, as the platoon was about to form up for the patrol, the liaison officer from an adjacent South Vietnamese unit came to Fire Support Base Pace to coordinate operations for the evening."

"It was discovered at that time that a South Vietnamese operation was scheduled for about the same area as the Bravo Company ambush patrol and was already in position."

Wagstaff said the base commander decided then to cancel the U.S. ambush. But when the commander of Bravo Company heard about the incident, he became angry and formed up a larger patrol which included the five reluctant men for an operation in the same area the next day.

"The five men went," Wagstaff said. "There was no refusal and no discussion."

Two newsmen who were at the base when the incident occurred expressed surprise at the furor.

"It wasn't a mutiny," one said. "A lot of those guys were bitching. It's the sort of thing that goes on all the time."

Attorney Named for Youth

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—H. William Allen of Little Rock has been appointed to represent Joe Kagebien, 16, in the youth's appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court of his murder conviction.

Kagebien was sentenced to death in August for the slaying of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, 27, of Wynne.

Circuit Judge John S. Mosby of Lepanto, who presided at Kagebien's trial, said Monday he had appointed Allen to represent Kagebien.

Mosby previously granted Kagebien an appeal at the state's expense because he was a pauper.

Kagebien's execution was originally set for Monday but Gov. Dale Bumpers issued a stay of execution until the court had time to rule on his appeal.

Labor Leaders Meet to Decide Policy on 2nd Phase of Nixon Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nation with its paychecks and prices frozen against inflation waited with the administration today for a crucial verdict from top labor leaders on President Nixon's second round of economic controls.

The Executive Council of the 13-million-member AFL-CIO was called to a special meeting here, and the heads of the two largest independent unions, the Teamsters and United Auto Workers, were on the guest list.

Republican leaders have indirectly certified that the decision whether to participate by the labor leaders can make or break Nixon's Phase 2.

That participation is "critically necessary," said Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., in appealing to top labor figures. And Hugh Scott, Senate Republican leader from Pennsylvania, said a failure by labor "to give the President a chance" would "irreparably injure the nation's efforts to revitalize the American economy."

Meanwhile, a spokesman said AFL-CIO President George Meany had not heard from any fence-mending emissaries from the administration proper.

Meany has been largely silent on Nixon's proposals for a Pay Board and a Price Commission to slow inflation when the freeze expires Nov. 13, except to say that he has found conflicts in private and public statements on how they will work.

Nixon Plans Summit Meet With Russia

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon announced today he will take part in a summit meeting in Moscow in the latter part of May after his China trip because there is a climate now for making some progress on mutual problems.

The announcement was made jointly here and in Moscow, Nixon said.

Nixon said the aim was for "better relations" between the United States and the Soviet Union. Any speculation that this visit and the one to China were planned to affect each other in any way "would be entirely inaccurate," he said.

The summit meeting was set for May, Nixon said at a White House news conference, because it was agreed with Soviet leaders that there was a basis for an agenda in which there was a possibility "of making significant progress" by a meeting and by discussions "at the highest level."

Court Order Has Cargo Moving Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A court order has cargo moving in West Coast ports. But longshore leader Harry Bridges says he's seeking an alliance with striking East and Gulf Coast dock workers that would cut off virtually all American shipping commerce when the "cooling-off" period ends.

"It may well be that the present situation will bring about the tieup of all ports," Bridges said Monday in his column in The Dispatcher, official newspaper of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

After the federal government obtained a court order under the Taft-Hartley Act to halt the 100-day West Coast strike, Bridges ordered his 15,000 ILWU members back to work last Saturday.

The order was good for 10 days and a hearing seeking to extend it to 80 days will be held Friday.

Steve Dore and other workers returned to 23 struck Pacific Coast ports by Monday but not to the large Los Angeles-Long Beach complex, where a hiring dispute is expected to keep facilities idle at least until Friday.

Meanwhile, contract talks were to resume today between the United Mine Workers union and coal operators in an effort to reach a settlement in the 12-day-old strike that has idled about 100,000.

UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle reported to the union's 125-member scale and policy committee in New York on Monday that there had been no progress in negotiations.

Boyle charged the operators with seeking to hide behind the wage-price freeze in order to stall negotiations.

The current contract expired Sept. 30 and the coal industry has offered to extend the 1968 agreement on a day-to-day basis until a settlement is reached.

Violence was reported in Ohio on Monday when a roving band of men overturned two loaded coal trucks.

Enemy Keeps Up Pressure on Allies

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners shelled 11 allied bases lightly during the night, keeping up the pressure on both sides the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border, military spokesmen reported today.

One of the outposts shelled was Fire Base Pace, the border artillery base at which five American soldiers balked at going on a night patrol Saturday. Their entire 100-man company was withdrawn from the base today, and a replacement company sent in.

The U.S. Command said Pace, which is about 75 miles northwest of Saigon, was hit by less than 35 mortar rounds and some U.S. soldiers were wounded.

The South Vietnamese said 10 of their bases on both sides of the border were shelled, but there were casualties at only four and these were light.

Only one new ground action was reported, a small clash around noon today between a South Vietnamese armored company and a North Vietnamese unit in the border area. A South Vietnamese spokesman said 17 North Vietnamese and three South Vietnamese were killed and six South Vietnamese were wounded.

The U.S. Command announced the withdrawal from combat duty of another artillery battalion of the Americal Division prior to return to the United States.

Cooler Is Forecast for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Slightly cooler temperatures are expected in Arkansas Wednesday as a cold front moves through the state.

The front is expected into the northwest portion of the state Wednesday and then move rapidly across the state. Some cloudiness is expected with the passage of the front but no precipitation is forecast.

Temperatures Monday ranged from 76 at El Dorado to 85 at Jonesboro and Fort Smith. High today should be in the low to mid 80s with high Wednesday in the low 70s to low 80s.

Lows tonight should be in the upper 40s in the extreme northwest portion of the state to low 50s in the southeast.

Argentine President Is Stronger

By LOUIS UCHITELLE
Associated Press Writer
BUENOS AIRES (AP) — President Alejandro Lanusse appears to have emerged stronger than before from the attempt Friday to overthrow his government. This makes it easier for him to fulfill his promise of general elections in 1973.

Nearly 50 army officers and retired officers were jailed on charges of leading the attempted coup or of plotting against Lanusse's seven-month-old government. All were on record in favor of continuing the authoritarian military rule Argentina has had since 1966. Lanusse has promised to turn over the government to civilian leaders elected in March 1973.

The most prominent prisoner is ex-President Roberto M. Levingston, a retired general who was the nation's chief executive until Lanusse ousted him in a palace coup last March 23.

The rebels, operating from two rural army bases, took control of radio stations in the pampa cities of Azul and Olavarría and broadcast demands for Lanusse's resignation. Behind the generalized rhetoric loomed the election issue and Lanusse's rapprochement with ex-dictator Juan D. Peron, who is still feared and hated by many top military officers.

Lanusse spent four years in jail while Peron was president, but he feels now that parliamentary government won't work without the cooperation of Peron's many followers.

The rebels had 1,200 troops and a dozen tanks, but no one joined them. By 11:30 p.m. Friday—eight hours after the revolt began—Lanusse was the winner. He angrily told a nationwide radio and television audience that the rebel leaders were "reactionaries," "totalitarians," "rightists" and "enemies of the great popular majority and of democracy."

Student organizations, labor unions, political parties, businessmen's associations and even the Communist party issued public statements during the night endorsing Lanusse and urging defeat for the "fascist" rebels.

Almost 10,000 troops had surrounded Azul by dawn. The rebels surrendered without firing a shot although they did try to dynamite a bridge to slow the advance toward Azul. The only casualties were a woman bus passenger killed when the bus collided with a tank, and two enlisted men injured in the collision of two army vehicles.

Lanusse, 52, who is the army commander in chief as well as president, directed the attack against the rebels and the arrests.

REV. GORDON RENSHAW

To climax National Pharmacy Week the Hope Rotary Club heard a program on drugs at the luncheon meeting October 8 in the Town and Country Rotarian Rufus Herndon, Jr. arranged for the county chairman of the Drug Education Program, the Rev. Gordon Renshaw, to speak.

With the help of an imitation marijuana bush and posters that declared such truths as "Benign, Breakfast of Champions," "Don't Let a Pusher Push You," and "Happiness is No Dope," the speaker emphasized the importance of reaching young people regarding the effects of drugs: physical, psychological, stimulant, depressant, good and bad. To illustrate the danger in trying drugs, he showed a film, "LSD, Trip or Trap."

Vice-President Bob Roberts presided over the meeting and thanked the Rev. Renshaw for telling the club how the drug education program is being carried on in the local schools.

Trader Lane Has Done It Again

BALTIMORE (AP) — Frank Lane, the magician of the baseball trading block, is at it again, and it looks like he's done it again.

The 74-year-old general manager of the Milwaukee Brewers has spent his life in the sport creating trade winds. He brought to port late Sunday night a 10-player deal with the Boston Red Sox. Officials of the teams are here for The World Series.

The Brewers receive slugging first baseman George Scott, outfielders Billy Conigliaro and Joe Lahoud, pitchers Jim Lonborg and Ken Brett and catcher Don Pavletich.

The Red Sox get pitchers Marty Pattin and Lew Krausse, outfielder Tommy Harper and minor league outfielder Pat Skrable.

"I think we came out on top in this deal," said Dick O'Connell, general manager of the Red Sox. "Of course, both teams think they get the best of any deal."

Scott and Lonborg were heroes of Boston's 1967 American League pennant drive, as Scott hit .303 and Lonborg won the Cy Young Award with a 22-9 record. But their records haven't been as good since then, and Lonborg has spent time back in the minors after a skiing accident hurt his pitching motion.

Recognition Greater for Red China

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Four more U.N. members recognize Communist China than recognize Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist regime, researchers reported today.

The United Nations' Dag Hammarskjöld Library, in a "reference aid" prepared in advance of the General Assembly debate next week on whether to offer the Red regime membership and expel the Nationalists, listed 60 members that recognize Peking and 56 that recognize the Taiwan government.

In the debate beginning next Monday, the 130 U.N. members must decide whether to pass an Albanian resolution which would seat Peking and oust Taiwan or a U.S. proposal to seat both Chinas in the Assembly and give Peking China's permanent seat on the Security Council.

Another U.S. resolution would make any attempt to oust Taiwan an "important question," requiring a two-thirds vote for passage rather than a simple majority.

Ten of the countries that recognize Peking have done so since last November when the Assembly voted 51-49 to seat

Hires Woman Whose Son Is Prisoner

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — When an Arizona woman told a general the Army wasn't meeting the needs of families of men held prisoner or missing in Vietnam, he hired her as a consultant. That was six months ago.

Since then, Iris R. Powers of Phoenix has made two dozen recommendations to help Army next-of-kin with legal, medical, economic and psychological problems.

Those the Army has accepted include: family group-therapy sessions, a comprehensive guidance booklet for next-of-kin, more effective ways of returning a man's personal property to his family, and establishing a task force to prepare the families for their husbands' return, or the eventuality that they may never return.

"The crux of the problem," said Mrs. Powers, 54-year-old widow and mother of a pilot who has been missing since April 1969, "was the lack of meaningful communication between the Army and the families."

Asked why the Army saw a need for a personal consultant while the other services did not, Mrs. Powers said that most Army men held prisoner, or listed as missing, are young, single and enlisted, while most of those from the Air Force and Navy are career officers.

Reaching for a copy of her recent testimony before a congressional committee, she read: "The Army next-of-kin are mostly parents; their sons are largely non-careerists. These mothers and fathers know little about military life, about their son's service, or about the channels through which they might learn additional details about the circumstances of their son's disappearance."

Before making her recommendations, said Mrs. Powers, she consulted senior staff officers at 31 Army posts, and interviewed scores of POW and MIA families.

Two years ago, I was asked me to go on an Army base unescorted. I'd have preferred to walk into a den of lions," Mrs. Powers said in a voice husky from chain-smoking cigarettes. "I knew about military life. But in the shock and adrenaline aspects of it, I was lost. I felt I had to go to Washington to find a solution."

Mrs. Powers, with Army Col. Joseph S. Powers, is one of 100 Army officers listed in the Defense Department's top 100 list of women.

Look, and oust Taiwan. But the Assembly decided earlier in the session that any such change would require a two-thirds majority.

Not all of the 10 are certain to vote this year for the Albanian resolution or against the U.S. plan. One of them, Mauritius, is sponsoring both U.S. proposals.

The other nine who have recognized Peking since last Nov. 29 are: Cameroon, Senegal, Sierra Leone, Togo, Austria, Turkey, Kuwait, Iran and Peru. Although their links with Communist China might incline them to vote against the important question resolution, current indications are that some of them are likely to abstain from voting on it. One or two may even vote for it.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Prosec. Atty. Jim Guy Tucker said Sunday that he would continue to file felony charges in gambling cases.

One of the two judges to hear such cases Circuit Judge William J. Kirby said Friday that he always had either reduced gambling charges to misdemeanors or dismissed them. When nine employees of the Royal American shows appeared before Kirby Friday he gave them suspended sentences on the misdemeanor charges of having a gaming device and dismissed the felony charges of keeping a gaming house.

Tucker said Sunday night he opposed gambling because it breeds corruption in law enforcement officers and public officials.

Under the court system now in operation Kirby receives the misdemeanor cases and Circuit Court Judge Richard Adkisson the felony charges.

However, to avoid splitting the charges against the nine carnival employees in two courts, they were assigned Kirby's court.

Tucker said that six persons had come before Adkisson's court and they had been convicted without a reduction in their charges.

Rogers Plans Talks With 20 Nations

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — For the third time in less than a month Secretary of State William P. Rogers is going to New York and a luxurious suite in one of America's most prestigious hotels.

But instead of a three-day vacation spent lounging in the Waldorf-Astoria Towers, Rogers will see officials of at least 20 nations as he reaches out for two of the Nixon administration's most cherished diplomatic goals—continued United Nations membership for Nationalist China and an interim Middle East settlement.

Important as these goals may be to Rogers, there is no firm evidence he is close to either, although State Department officials are constantly maintaining a positive tone.

His goal for the Middle East is reopening the Suez Canal as a temporary agreement between Egypt and Israel that could serve as a first step toward a permanent settlement.

Rogers' next Mideast move comes Thursday when he sees Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban for the second time since the secretary opened his bilateral talks just over three weeks ago.

The Eban meeting assumed increased importance after Rogers met Thursday with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad. Spokesmen for both leaders said the two had settled previous disagreements and narrowed differences, but there was no detailing of what differences.

Perhaps most significant was an apparent negative Israeli attitude.

The night before the Rogers-Riad meeting, Israeli Premier Golda Meir criticized Rogers' Oct. 4 speech to the General Assembly.

Mrs. Meir said the six so-called ideas put forth by Rogers as containing the germ of an interim settlement had encouraged Egypt to maintain an intransigent position.

And as late as last Sunday, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat said as he left to visit Moscow that the latest U.S. effort was "giving Israel all she wants."

Through all the vague statements, Rogers has maintained both sides still want the United States to continue its role.

Also continuing for the secretary will be his drive to keep the Nationalist Chinese in the U.N., while supporting membership for the Communist mainland.

The China question will dominate Rogers' conversations this week as it did his earlier New York visits.

The key to the American effort is a resolution maintaining expulsion of a member requires a two-thirds margin, not a simple majority.

According to U.S. officials, the vote on the "important question" move will be very close, but they say there is a great deal of reason to hope for success.

Says Special Interests Use Ecology

By JAY PERKINS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. James O. Eastland says a new and closer look should be taken at environmental protection laws because, he claims, ecology crusaders are stymieing important public-works projects.

"Special-interest groups, invoking the ecology theme, are holding up badly needed governmental projects," the Mississippi Democrat said. His ire was raised by a court decision delaying construction of the Tennessee-Tombigbee Waterway—a ruling Eastland described as "judicial tyranny."

That action temporarily blocked construction of a 235-mile, commercial waterway between the Tombigbee and Tennessee rivers.

A preliminary injunction was issued against the project, holding the Environmental Defense Fund made a substantial showing that the Army Corps of Engineers failed to comply with the environmental act.

Eastland, chairman of the Senate Rules Committee, also cited court action against the Calvert Cliffs, Md., atomic power plant in which a District of Columbia Court of Appeals said the Atomic Energy Commission made a mockery of the environmental act.

Although the court did not halt the project, it ordered the AEC to revise its rules on atomic power plant construction because, the court said, the agency had been slow in implementing EPA rules and had misinterpreted provisions of the act.

The Environmental Protection Act of 1969 requires that an environmental impact statement accompany major federal projects through the decision-making process.

"Everybody is in favor of protecting the environment," Eastland said, "but this business of yelling 'ecology' every time we get ready for a new project has got to stop."

"Many of these (court) suits are in the vital field of public power. Any delay along these lines could mean serious consequences for our already over-worked power system."

They Won't Wait: Youth Is the Time to Really Make Dream Come True

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Youth is the time for man to go on golden argosies and make his true dreams come true.

Otherwise, middle age becomes a kind of prison for the would-be adventurer. His argosies turn into armchair travels and his visions into tired daydreams that thrill him less each passing year.

His fantasies may even harden into a ritual as routine and commonplace as his other habits.

So if you're under 40, now is the time to win these dream goals. For example, you might—

Acquire the world's largest collection of box tops you can send away and get nothing back for.

to put it together, a bill to build a new governmental loudspeaker for the consumer's voice is headed for its toughest test on the House floor.

Following stage-setting debate today, decisions are due Wednesday on the consumer-protection proposal that has generated intense and often bitter personal friction between Ralph Nader, the nation's best-known consumer advocate, and Chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., of the Government Operations Committee.

Nader accuses Holifield of going along with an alliance of most committee Republicans and a minority of Democrats in creating what Nader calls "a consumer fraud" by gutting stronger original legislation. Holifield insists his committee produced a good bill full of legal strength.

A key amendment is being recommended by 15 of the 23 Democrats and two of the 16 Republicans on the committee. They seek to broaden the proposed consumer-protection agency's authority to represent consumers in proceedings of other federal agencies. Other proposed amendments would limit the consumer agency's powers.

"The art of legislation," says Holifield in defense of his committee's work, "is the art of obtaining the possible I think this is a good bill, a strong bill in many ways."

But Nader, saying he has the support of Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., is urging the House to strengthen the measure and create "a bill for the vast number of millions of unrepresented American consumers who need representation before federal regulatory agencies."

In an eleven-hour appeal for support for "a single strengthening amendment" backed by the 17 committee members, Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., told colleagues:

"Despite all the rhetoric that the committee-reported bill is adequate, the fact remains that the lading experts on administrative law have concluded that the CPA, under the language of the committee bill, will be excluded from most agency matters of importance to consumers."

Their amendment would let the new agency intervene in more so-called adjudicatory proceedings—the agency process for formulating orders—and conduct reviews of informal proceedings.

The committee-approved bill's major feature would be creation of a consumer-protection agency.

Turks Assured of Continued U.S. Support

By WALTER MEARS

ANKARA (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has assured Turkey's leaders that the United States is committed to aid their nation and to maintain the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. He dismissed suggestions of unilateral U.S. troops withdrawals from Europe as "very careless talk."

Agnew, midway through two days of talks in the Turkish capital, said he hopes U.S. negotiations with the Soviet Union will lead to balanced reductions in the Communist and Western forces in Europe. But without

Red Leaders in Egypt for Talks

By ROGER LEDDINGTON
Associated Press Writer
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's top leaders and President Anwar Sadat of Egypt opened talks today on the new U.S. proposal for an interim Middle East settlement.

Sadat is also believed to be seeking more military hardware from the Soviets to counter the possibility that the United States may resume arms shipments to Israel.

The Egyptian president arrived in Moscow Monday for intensive discussion with the Kremlin leadership but delayed the talks until today.

Egypt's official Middle East news agency said Sadat postponed his first session with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, President Nikolai V. Podgorny and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin to discuss the U.S. plan with his foreign minister, Mahmoud Riad. Riad, who conferred last week with U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers, arrived in Moscow from New York late Monday afternoon.

The six-point proposal put forward by Rogers last week is aimed at spurring an agreement to reopen the Suez Canal, but Rogers emphasized that he considers it a step toward an over-all settlement between Israel and the Arabs.

Riad has strong reservations about an interim agreement, fearing such a temporary solution might turn into a permanent situation that would leave the basic Arab-Israeli conflict unresolved.

Pravda, Izvestia and Tass all published the same article expressing hope that Sadat's visit will "strengthen further the friendship and all-around cooperation between the two nations in the interests of joint struggle against imperialism, for freedom, independence and social progress."

In another development, reliable military sources in Tel Aviv reported that two MIG23s, the Soviet Union's most advanced warplanes, made their operational debut in the Middle East theater on Sunday with a brief flight near the southwest Israeli coast.

The sources said Israeli aircraft attempted to intercept the planes "and came close enough to make positive identification."

GIs Balk at Patrol, Are Withdrawn

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The five U.S. soldiers who balked at going on a night ambush patrol last weekend were withdrawn today from Fire Base Pace along with the rest of their 100-man company.

Maj. Gen. Jack J. Wagstaff, commander of U.S. forces in the 3rd Military Region, said he had replaced the company at the artillery base on the Cambodian border "because of all this goddam flak, the possible harm it could do to company morale and in line with normal rotation policy."

Wagstaff said no disciplinary action would be taken against the five reluctant GIs because "nothing was violated."

"There was never any confrontation, never any refusal," the general said. "There was never an opportunity. The only refusal, if you want to call it that, is that they told a newsman they weren't going to go."

The five men were members of Bravo Company, 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry, 3rd Brigade, 1st Cavalry Division.

Wagstaff said that shortly after the order was given for the night ambush patrol Saturday, the five men were preparing their equipment for the mission when an unidentified reporter came into their bunker.

"In the course of this conversation the men said they were scheduled for a patrol but that they were not going," Wagstaff continued.

"That evening, as the platoon was about to form up for the patrol, the liaison officer from an adjacent South Vietnamese unit came to Fire Support Base Pace to coordinate operations for the evening."

It was discovered at that time that a South Vietnamese operation was scheduled for about the same area as the Bravo Company ambush patrol and was already in position."

Wagstaff said the base commander decided then to cancel the U.S. ambush. But when the commander of Bravo Company heard about the incident, he became angry and formed up a larger patrol which included the five reluctant men for an operation in the same area the next day.

"The five men went," Wagstaff said, "there was no refusal and no discussion."

Two newsmen who were at the base when the incident occurred expressed surprise at the furor.

"It wasn't a mutiny," one said. "A lot of those guys were bitching. It's the sort of thing that goes on all the time."

Attorney Named for Youth

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — H. William Allen of Little Rock has been appointed to represent Joe Kagebien, 16, in the youth's appeal to the Arkansas Supreme Court of his murder conviction.

Kagebien was sentenced to death in August for the slaying of Jimmy Wayne Wampler, 27, of Wynne.

Circuit Judge John S. Mosby of Lepanto, who presided at Kagebien's trial, said Monday he had appointed Allen to represent Kagebien.

Mosby previously granted Kagebien an appeal at the state's expense because he was a pauper.

Kagebien's execution was originally set for Monday but Gov. Dale Bumpers issued a stay of execution until the court had time to rule on his appeal.

Labor Leaders Meet to Decide Policy on 2nd Phase of Nixon Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nation with its paychecks and prices frozen against inflation waited with the administration today for a crucial verdict from top labor leaders on President Nixon's second round of economic controls.

The Executive Council of the 13-million-member AFL-CIO was called to a special meeting here, and the heads of the two largest independent unions, the Teamsters and United Auto Workers, were on the guest list.

Republican leaders have indirectly certified that the decision whether to participate by the labor leaders can make or break Nixon's Phase 2.

That participation is "critically necessary," said Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., in appealing to top labor figures. And Hugh Scott, Senate Republican leader from Pennsylvania, said a failure by labor "to give the President a chance" would "irreparably injure the nation's efforts to revitalize the American economy."

Meanwhile, a spokesman said AFL-CIO President George Meany had not heard from any fence-mending emissaries from the administration proper.

Meany has been largely silent on Nixon's proposals for a Pay Board and a Price Commission to slow inflation when the freeze expires Nov. 13, except to say that he has found conflicts in private and public statements on how they will work.

Nixon Plans Summit Meet With Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon announced today he will take part in a summit meeting in Moscow in the latter part of May after his China trip because there is a climate now for making some progress on mutual problems.

The announcement was made jointly here and in Moscow, Nixon said.

Nixon said the aim was for "better relations" between the United States and the Soviet Union. Any speculation that this visit and the one to China were planned to affect each other in any way "would be entirely inaccurate," he said.

The summit meeting was set for May, Nixon said at a White House news conference, because it was agreed with Soviet leaders that there was a basis for an agenda in which there was a possibility "of making significant progress" by a meeting and by discussions "at the highest level."

Court Order Has Cargo Moving Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A court order has cargo moving in West Coast ports. But longshore leader Harry Bridges says he's seeking an alliance with striking East and Gulf Coast dock workers that would cut off virtually all American shipping commerce when the "cooling-off" period ends.

"It may well be that the present situation will bring about the tieup of all ports," Bridges said Monday in his column in The Dispatcher, official newspaper of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

After the federal government obtained a court order under the Taft-Hartley Act to halt the 100-day West Coast strike, Bridges ordered his 15,000 ILWU members back to work last Saturday.

The order was good for 10 days and a hearing seeking to extend it to 80 days will be held Friday.

Steve Dore and other workers returned to 23 struck Pacific Coast ports by Monday but not to the large Los Angeles-Long Beach complex, where a hiring dispute is expected to keep facilities idle at least until Friday.

Meanwhile, contract talks were to resume today between the United Mine Workers union and coal operators in an effort to reach a settlement in the 12-day-old strike that has idled about 100,000.

UMW President W. A. "Tony" Boyle reported to the union's 125-member scale and policy committee in New York on Monday that there had been no progress in negotiations.

Boyle charged the operators with seeking to hide behind the wage-price freeze in order to stall negotiations.

The current contract expired Sept. 30 and the coal industry has offered to extend the 1968 agreement on a day-to-day basis until a settlement is reached.

Enemy Keeps Up Pressure on Allies

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese gunners shelled 11 allied bases lightly during the night, keeping up the pressure on both sides the Cambodian-South Vietnamese border, military spokesmen reported today.

One of the outposts shelled was Fire Base Pace, the border artillery base at which five American soldiers balked at going on a night patrol Saturday. Their entire 100-man company was withdrawn from the base today, and a replacement company sent in.

The U.S. Command said Pace, which is about 75 miles northwest of Saigon, was hit by less than 35 mortar rounds and some U.S. soldiers were wounded.

The South Vietnamese said 10 of their bases on both sides of the border were shelled, but there were casualties at only four and these were light.

Only one new ground action was reported, a small clash around noon today between a South Vietnamese armored company and a North Vietnamese unit in the border area. A South Vietnamese spokesman said 17 North Vietnamese and three South Vietnamese were killed and six South Vietnamese were wounded.

The U.S. Command announced the withdrawal from combat duty of another artillery battalion of the Americal Division prior to return to the United States.

Cooler Is Forecast for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Slightly cooler temperatures are expected in Arkansas Wednesday as a cold front moves through the state.

The front is expected into the northwest portion of the state Wednesday and then move rapidly across the state. Some cloudiness is expected with the passage of the front but no precipitation is forecast.

Temperatures Monday ranged from 76 at El Dorado to 85 at Jonesboro and Fort Smith. High today should be in the low to mid 80s with high Wednesday in the low 70s to low 80s.

Lows tonight should be in the upper 40s in the extreme northwest portion of the state to low 60s in the southeast.

More Backing for Byrd's Nomination

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon said today he will announce his selections for two Supreme Court vacancies next week. He said Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., and at least two women are among those now under consideration.

Responding to a question at an impromptu news conference, Nixon said Byrd, a conservative West Virginia Democrat, "is definitely on the list" he is considering.

"I don't rule out Sen. Byrd and I certainly don't rule out a woman," Nixon said as he disclosed "I will make the nominations next week."

The President noted that there had been stories during the weekend that he had settled on Byrd as his first choice for the court, and still other stories later that Byrd was unlikely to get the nomination. "Both are wrong," Nixon said of what he called these "dope stories."

He said several of Byrd's colleagues recommended him and he is being considered. Then he volunteered: "At least two women are under consideration at this time."

Earlier White House sources said Nixon has about a dozen individuals under "active consideration" for nomination to the Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Henry Jackson says he would vote to confirm Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., if he is nominated for the Supreme Court.

Jackson's statement at a news conference Monday in Tampa, Fla., came after two other Democratic presidential hopefuls, Sens. George McGovern and Fred Harris, asked that President Nixon nominate someone else for the court.

Administration sources had said Saturday that Byrd, assistant Senate Democratic leader, was under consideration for one of two Supreme Court vacancies.

Various published reports, quoting administration sources, said Monday, however, that Byrd's nomination is unlikely. The reports said Byrd's name is only one of many being considered.

Jackson, a Washington Democrat, told inquiring newsmen: "In my judgment he (Byrd) would be confirmed and I would vote for his confirmation."

Jackson noted Byrd has renounced his one-time membership in the Ku Klux Klan and "has supported in recent years important civil-rights legislation."

McGovern's office issued a clarification Monday after the South Dakota senator said Sunday that Byrd has "grown in stature" and is "trying to regain some of the earlier limitations in the field of civil rights."

McGovern's new statement asked that Nixon nominate "someone more qualified" and said Byrd's nomination would

Court Refuses to Rule on War's Legality

By BARRY SCHWEID Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court declined 5 to 2 today to rule on the legality of U.S. military action in Vietnam.

The court made no comment in refusing to hear an appeal brought for two soldiers by the American Civil Liberties Union and the New York Civil Liberties Union.

One of the soldiers, Salvatore Orlando, is on duty in Vietnam. The other, Douglas Kaplan, is at Ft. Dix, N.J., under orders for Vietnam but seeking a hardship discharge. They challenged the government's right to send them to war.

The high court has never agreed to hear a case that questions the constitutionality of American military action in Southeast Asia without an explicit declaration of war by Congress.

Justices William O. Douglas and William J. Brennan voted to hear the ACLU's attorneys dispute the legality of the war. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices Potter Stewart, Byron R. White, Thurgood Marshall and Harry A. Blackmun were against a hearing.

Normally, the votes of at least four justices are required to take on a case. Two seats are vacant. The court did not indicate whether it is retaining the four-vote minimum or whether three votes are now needed.

From the very start, Douglas has favored hearing Vietnam war cases. Last year he was supported by Stewart and John M. Harlan, who retired last month with illness. This was the first time Brennan was in favor of considering a test of the war.

He said he would not make a final decision on Byrd until the Senate concluded hearings but that it is evident that "Sen. Byrd has a heavy burden to overcome."

At a news conference in Hanover, N.H., McGovern suggested Monday that nomination of a black person from the South would be "an imaginative, reconciling move for a president to make."

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, whose name has been mentioned, said in Detroit Monday that another senator is more likely to be nominated.

Irate Porker Fan Sues to Protect Others

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — One Razorback rooster who had his car towed from War Memorial Stadium during the Sept. 18 game has filed suit in the city to protect other fans the rest of the season.

George E. Mathews of North Little Rock was one of 45 motorists who left the game only to find his car towed away from a no parking area.

The suit asks that the city has ample personnel to see that "paying patrons will be assured that their cars will be directed to be parked so that at the game's end, they will not come seeking their automobile and find it gone, suffering humiliation, embarrassment, delays and expense."

Of the 45 persons who had their cars towed away, Mathews was the only one irate enough to fight. He lost the first round.

He was convicted Oct. 4 in Traffic Court and was fined $43. Normally the fine is $1 plus the towing charge. But the fine assessed Mathews included a $33 "excessive witness fee."

Mathews subpoenaed Police Chief Gale Weeks and City Manager Jack Meriwether, plus several other city officials for that trial.

In his suit, Mathews is asking the city to be enjoined from any further harassment of football fans.

"The manner and means of the treatment of the football fans is oppressive, arbitrary, unjust and unreasonable, since in effect, they (the fans) are trapped after having paid ($1) when many of them are told where to park, and immediately after the start of the game, the police move in with wreckers and tow as many of the cars away as is physically possible during the game," the suit said.

The city provides parking near War Memorial Stadium for $1.

TURKS ASSURED

agreement for such reciprocal reductions, he said, there can be no American cutback.

Agnew was conferring today with President Cevdet Sunay and, for the second time, with Premier Nihat Erim.

The vice president spent 90 minutes with Erim and other government officials Monday and reportedly told them that U.S. negotiations with the Soviet Union on strategic arms and manpower are a product of diplomatic realism. But a Foreign Ministry spokesman said Agnew also assured Erim that the United States is committed to the support of Turkey through military aid and alliance.

For his part Erim said Turkey believes close ties to the West and the support of NATO are essential to the interests of his nation and the cause of peace in Europe.

Agnew arrived in Ankara Monday from Washington and goes to Iran Wednesday for the celebration at Persepolis of the 2,500th anniversary of the Persian monarchy. On Oct. 16 he will begin a six-day visit to Greece, his father's native land.

Discussing his mission, Agnew said he would not be talking with foreign leaders about any upgrading of American military commitments because President Nixon's policy is to reduce them when that is compatible with U.S. security interests.

We're engaged in balanced force reduction conversations with the Soviets," he said, "and as soon as they prove fruitful—which I hope they will—I think we would be in a position to further reduce our military presence in the Mediterranean."

"But one thing is certain, until we can be certain that the forces of NATO that stand ready against the Warsaw Pact nations are able to meet that threat, we cannot move affirmatively in that area."

And all the talk in the Congress that relates to unilateral force reductions is, in my judgment, very careless talk because it is important that we maintain that readiness."

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield has said he will again propose his amendment to reduce U.S. troops stationed in Western Europe by half, to 100,000. The Senate rejected the measure earlier this year after a massive administration lobbying campaign.

Guardian Cases to Be Discussed

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Pulaski County School Board will consider at 7:30 tonight voting the transfer of about 40 students whose parents have appointed legal guardians to avoid the pupils being bused.

Supt. J. K. Williams of Pulaski County District said Monday that he had received letters from parents asking the board to look into the possibility of voiding the transfers.

He said that about half the pupils who attended McClellan High School in 1970-71 were zoned into the Wilbur D. Mills High School attendance zone to increase the ratio of whites in the Mills School.

Williams said that most of the cases where the name of the legal guardian has been changed occurred where pupils could return to McClellan.

John I. Purtle, the district's attorney, says the pupil must actually live with the guardian and not just use the guardian's address.

Hearing Set on Forrest City Shootout

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP) — Pros. Atty. Gene Raff has set Oct. 23 as the date for a hearing on a shootout at Madison Sept. 17 in which five persons were injured.

One of the persons involved in the incident was the former marshal of Madison, who is white, and the current marshal of Madison, who is black.

The Oct. 23 hearing will be an open hearing. He held a similar hearing in Marianna where racial trouble flared there this summer.

"I feel that the type of hearing had great therapeutic value for the community there and will here," Raff said Monday. "It's a proper type hearing for the circumstances involved in this case."

Injured in the shootout were Malcom Gorman, 45, his wife; their daughter Coretta, 15; the present City Marshal Herbert Fleming, and A. J. Ragan, his wife deputy.

According to officials the shooting started after the officers went to the Gorman home to arrest Gorman for reckless driving.

Too Early to Tell, Says Fulbright

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said here Monday night that it was too soon to say who he will support for president.

However in reference to Rep. Wilbur Mills, D-Ark., he said: "We have an unannounced candidate from Arkansas and of course we are all behind him at the present time."

The senator spoke at a seminar at the University of Arkansas honoring the 25th year of the Fulbright Act, which began as an international education exchange program Aug. 1, 1946.

During his speech Fulbright said that the surcharge on foreign imports as proposed by President Nixon could have an adverse effect on Arkansas.

This surcharge creates a situation where our customers might find other sources of supply," he said. "And I fear that it may have a deleterious effect upon Arkansas unless there was a guarantee that the surcharge would be temporary."

U.S., Russia Talk Over Sea Incidents

MOSCOW (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union began negotiations today to prevent dangerous harassment and accidents between their naval forces.

The discussions were first proposed by the United States in 1968 and accepted by the Russians earlier this year.

High-ranking defense and naval officials from both sides are to work out "some form of informal understanding" to preclude cold-war-type incidents on the high seas, knowledgeable sources said.

The U.S. delegation is headed by Undersecretary of the Navy John W. Warner. The Soviets have designated as their chief negotiator their No. 2 naval commander, Fleet Adm. Vladimir A. Kashtanov.

The understanding, the sources said, would relate only to registered naval ships and would be worked out within the framework of existing international regulations. They said the conduct of spy ships sailing as non-military vessels would not be discussed.

Although the talks are bilateral, the United States consulted its NATO allies before meeting with the Russians and will inform them of the results, the sources said.

The talks are expected to last about 10 days, the sources added.

Police Offer Budget

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Police Chief Gale F. Weeks submitted Monday a proposed budget for 1972 for $4,118,811.

The budget for this year has been estimated to be $2,257,932. Weeks said the bulk of the budget, over $500,000, would be used for salaries and retirement pay for 57 new personnel.

Weeks said that Little Rock has an average of 1.6 police officers per 1,000 population, compared to a national average of 2.2 officers per 1,000 population.

Thornton Plans a Probe at Marianna

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Ray Thornton said Monday that a member of his consumer protection division will probably go to Marianna within the next few weeks to check on complaints lodged against the Federal Home Administration.

State Rep. J. B. Smith of Marianna said last week in a telephone call to the attorney general's office that some purchasers of the FHA homes had complained that the homes were poorly built. The purchasers also said they could not get the FHA to assist them in getting improvements made.

A federal inquiry into FHA rural home loans in Lee County and four other East Arkansas counties has been undertaken at the request of the House Government Operations Committee at Washington.

Questioning Prisoners at Atica Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — Over a strong dissent by Justice William O. Douglas, the Supreme Court refused today to halt the interrogation of prisoners at Attica about last month's rebellion.

Douglas said public interest in the case runs high and the court should have cleared the way for an early ruling.

Lawyers for a group of inmates contended last week that prisoners at Attica in New York State are being beaten with clubs in a "continuing pattern of assaults and threats." They asked Justice Thurgood Marshall to end the questioning of inmates by state officials until lower courts decided whether the legal rights of prisoners were being violated.

Marshall and all other members of the court with the exception of Douglas rejected the application for a temporary restraining order. They did not express an opinion on the questions raised.

Douglas, dissenting from the 6-1 decision, said the court should have issued the injunction and granted a hearing to the prisoners.

The plea said the state had given prisoners an opportunity to ask for a lawyer before being questioned, but had not allowed them to bring a lawyer with them or to remain silent during interrogation.

Criminal Case Appeals Ruling

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court said Monday that appeals in criminal cases can be made either under the procedure of Act 333 of 1971 or under Act 555 of 1953, which Act 333 amended.

The appeals can be made under either act until the end of this year. After Jan. 1, 1972 only Act 333 can be used.

The court said it was exercising its rule-making power to allow both systems to be used to avoid the "possibility of injustice."

The new act, which was intended to simplify criminal appeal procedures, abolishes the necessity of filing a motion for a new trial simultaneously with notice of appeal.

Tech Schools Turn Away Applicants

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state's vocational - technical schools turned away 1,200 persons last month due to lack of facilities.

State Education Commissioner Arch W. Ford said in an article of the October issue of the Arkansas Department of Education's newsmagazine that the schools needed to be expanded.

"The schools were too small to accommodate those in need of training and in position to take advantage of the opportunities offered in the schools," Ford said. "This indicates these institutions must be expanded."

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

ARE FASHION HOUSES PULLING A SNEAKY?
Dear "Rap":

This is more of a yap than a rap. I thing we females are being sneaked up on!

Last year the midi skirt flopped—and the more promotion it got the less it was accepted. This year, just take a look! With scarcely a peep about the new length in any news story, we find that skirts have mainly dropped below the knee, and they're going longer all the time. Pretty soon there won't be a short skirt on the rack.

Do fashion designers figure that what they can't foist on us with all our publicity, they can get us to accept by a quiet

Women Come to Aid of Irish Crew

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Their fists and umbrellas flying, two middle-aged women beat back a mob Monday night and rescued the besieged crew of a British armored car.

"These were courageous women and we would like to say thank you," military headquarters announced early today, "but we don't even know their names."

Three soldiers were stranded in the middle of a rock-throwing mob when their armored personnel carrier developed fuel trouble in Londonderry's Roman Catholic Bogside district. The rioters threw barbed wire around the vehicle's wheels, poured paint over it and tried to set it afire.

"Suddenly two women pushed their way to the front of the crowd and physically beat them back with their fists," an army spokesman said.

One of the women, flailing about her umbrella, yelled: "You are not Christians! You will kill them!"

The crowd fell back. One of the soldiers ran for help, and reinforcements extricated the vehicle. The women disappeared into the night.

In Belfast during the night a soldier was wounded in the shoulder by a sniper in the Catholic Lower Falls district. A bullet ripped through another soldier's collar, scorching his neck.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hugh Downs, after nine years as host of NBC's "Today" show turned over the reins to Frank McGee Monday morning in a two-hour program dedicated primarily to farewells.

The usual form of the daily program was maintained, with frequent breaks for news summaries and weather reports plus, of course, the commercials. Downs, in fact, handled a pitch for a dog food as his final chore on the show.

The departure of Downs is bound to be a wrench for viewers for whom the program has become part of a morning ritual. His low-key, sober personality somehow seemed nicely gauged to the time of day.

McGee, whose public image is that of a brisk, no-nonsense reporter with a hard news background—recently as anchorman for NBC coverage of space flights—undoubtedly has his work cut out for him. He moves into a group—Barbara Walters, Frank Blair and Joe Garagiola—who members enjoy an easy working relationship honed smooth by years of teamwork.

"Hogan's Goat," a television adaptation of William Alfred's 1965 off-Broadway play, was presented as a two-hour drama special on the Public Broadcasting Network Monday night.

The play, as melodramatic as an afternoon soap opera, was set in Brooklyn 80 years ago when the Irish ruled the community. It was the story of an ambitious young politician, Matt Stanton, and his effort to unseat Quinn, the mayor of 30 years.

Robert Foxworth (of last season's "Storefront Lawyers") played Stanton, with Faye Dunaway as his wife. They were supported by a strong cast of New York stage actors. There was much strong language, forbidden except in meaningful drama, but the plot itself would not have been out of place in any series on the commercial networks.

Meanwhile, back on CBS's "Gunsmoke," Dodge City acquired a new, temporary sawbones. Dr. John Chapman—played by Pat Hingle—rode into town to substitute for old Doc, in Baltimore for a refresher course in medicine. The new man arrived just in time to save Newley's life.

Dr. Chapman will be around the show until some time after new year. Milburn Stone, now recovered from open-heart surgery, has now resumed acting his familiar role of Doc.

Rabies Shots Paralyze Vet's Son

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A Memphis veterinarian's son bitten by a rabid kitten Sept. 25 is in "touch and go" condition in a hospital, paralyzed from anti-rabies shots he must continue to take.

Kenneth Ford, 14, is one of 12 persons taking the lengthy anti-rabies series because of contact with the kitten.

A doctor said the youngster developed a severe reaction to the shots and became paralyzed from the neck down Friday night.

So far, he has been given 14 of the shots and has seven more to go. Hospital officials said Monday night that once the series of shots is started it must be completed.

Health authorities said the youngster does not have rabies at this time, but the incubation for the disease varies in humans. In dogs, it sometimes is as long as 180 days.

Rich Colors of Fall Are Coming Out

Arkansas' plant life will soon be draped out in the warm, rich colors of fall. Just as man takes pride at the county fairs in displaying the products of the previous growing season, so do plants like to display their accomplishments.

Calvin J. Caldwell, County Extension Agent, says the brilliant colors exhibited by trees and shrubs have been a year in developing so that we may enjoy their beauty for only a few days or weeks. Have you ever stopped to think what kindled these flaming colors? Or wondered why chlorophyll, the green coloring matter in the leaf, is the greatest chemical compound known to man? Or that the leaf is the most important and complicated manufacturing plant in the world? Or that the food-making process that goes on in the leaf is the most important chemical reaction on earth? Or that without plants, no human or other form of animal life could exist on this earth?

When the leaf has finished manufacturing food in the fall, the green substance (chlorophyll) is broken up into different substances. As chlorophyll breaks down, the plastid and sap pigments are exposed.

The principal plastid pigments are carotene and xanthophyll. (Zan-tho-fil). Their yellow colors are shown in the elms, hickories, ash, ginkgo, and others.

The principal sap pigments are the anthocyanins. (An-tho-si-anins). They are responsible for the reds, blues, and purples found in the black gum, dogwood, sweet gum, sugar maple, sumac, and others.

As fall approaches, a thin layer of cork begins to form around the base of the leaf stem. This is called the abscission layer. As time goes on, this cork layer cuts deeper and deeper. Finally, it completely girdles the stem (petiole) and since the leaf has finished its work, it separates itself from the mother plant and falls to the ground.

As this completes nature's work for the year in manufacturing food and in shedding her finery, she closes her performance, and the curtain is drawn for another year.

Glassblowers were called "lamp workers" centuries ago because they worked at tables on which oil lamps burned.

Baptist Group Plans Meet

Union Baptist Association will be held Thursday night 7:30 and all day Friday, October 14 and 15 with Mt. Nebo Baptist near Patmos. This Association was organized 1872 at Union Baptist Church and this session will be her centennial (100 years) session. There are thirty-one churches affiliated with this local Association. A brief history of the churches and high-lights of the Association has been prepared and is expected to be ready when the Association meets. Lunch will be served at noon on Friday.

The University of Northern Colorado has students from every state in the nation.

Cowboys Get Back on Right Track

By DENNE H. FREEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys got back on the Super Bowl track Monday night with a relief quarterback and the return of Duane Thomas, but you can bet somebody is at work taping a handle on the game ball.

It was fumble, fumble, who got the fumble in a sloppy nationally televised National Football League contest that saw 11 turnovers with Dallas finally prevailing 20-13 over the New York Giants.

"There were so many fumbles it got to where you started looking around on every play wondering who was going to come up with the next one," said Dallas linebacker Leroy Jordan.

The Cowboys fumbled seven times and the Giants recovered five. The Giants fumbled five times and the Cowboys collected all five. New York also intercepted one Cowboy pass.

New York fumbled on its own 24, 39 and the Dallas nine and 28 yard lines. Dallas reciprocated by losing the ball on New York five, 26, one and Dallas 31 and 48 yard lines.

"There were so many fumbles I lost track on who was hurting the most," said Cowboys Coach Tom Landry.

Giants Coach Alex Webster said "We kind of goofed. We made too many errors. I believe it was hard-hitting more than anything."

Dallas is now 3-1 and trails the unbeaten Washington Redskins by a full game in the National Football Conference's Eastern Division. The Giants

Royal Says Horns Badly Crippled

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Injuries have put a kink in what Coach Darrell Royal thought was going to be "another outstanding offensive" Texas Longhorn team.

Royal told a news conference Monday "we haven't been in total tune" since UCLA, when quarterback Eddie Phillips sprained his big toe and aggravated a pulled leg muscle.

Royal talked about Texas' wounded starters, including Phillips and his sub, Donnie Wigginton, and said he would have no more to say about them the rest of the week.

"I'm not a doctor and I'm damn sure not a fortune teller," said Royal, adding that callers "drove me practically nuts last week" requesting an "hour by hour" report on Phillips' condition prior to the Oklahoma game.

Royal said Phillips is "doubtful" for the nationally televised Arkansas game, and Wigginton could be out from "one to three weeks."

If Phillips and Wigginton are not in good enough condition to start, Royal will have to dip down to the third team for untested sophomore Rob Riviere.

"Luckily, we may get Wigginton back by game time, but he can't take part in drills this week," Royal said. Wigginton's ribs were hurt after he had guided Texas to three touchdowns in the Longhorns' 48-27 loss to Oklahoma Saturday.

Phillips, who has been ailing for a month with a pulled leg muscle and a sprained toe, was put in on an "emergency" basis against the Sooners, and Royal said his condition got worse as the game went on.

"His hamstring is tender, tight and pulled," Royal said, adding that the injuries such as Phillips suffered Sept. 18 usually take six weeks to recover. "I don't think he (Phillips) will be well the entire season," Royal said.

Riviere has played about two minutes this season, Royal said. He ran once against Oklahoma and lost seven yards and threw an incomplete pass. As a freshman he hit 20 of 38 passes for 238 yards but was not considered much of a runner, which is important in Texas' wishbone-T offense.

Riviere's backup will be sophomore Mike McCulloch, 6 feet and 182 pounds, who has not played at all.

Also crippled in the Oklahoma game were starters Glenn Gaspard, linebacker; Rick Davis, tight end; and Don Burris, halfback.

Royal said there was "no doubt" Gaspard will not play against Arkansas. He said he "did not think Davis will be ready," and Burris is "out for three weeks and maybe the season" with a dislocated collarbone.

Split receiver Jim Moore also will be sidelined for at least another two weeks, Royal said.

He said the injury situation was so bad that reserve defensive back Gary Yoeman sprained his ankle even though he did not even get into the Oklahoma game. He said Yoeman was hurt on a sideline pile up.

Royal said defensive linebacker-end Stan Mauldin, who was hurt and not expected to suit up against Oklahoma, moved in at linebacker and "played and fought like a champion." He said Mauldin would start this week.

Linebacker Tommy Woodard will replace Davis at end with sophomore Malcolm Minnick switching to Woodard's old job.

Royal said Oklahoma "was as good an offensive football team as we have run up against since I've been here."

He credited Arkansas with "marked improvement on defense—they're getting more aggressive and more efficient each week."

"We've known all along they are an outstanding offensive football team," he added.

Royal said Arkansas quarterback Joe Ferguson is "the most accurate passer to hit this section of the country" since Royal took over the Texas coaching job in 1957. "He can really hum it."

Hanging Out College Grid Wash

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: "We've won too many games to expect any sympathy," Darrell Royal of Texas said before the season started when he was contemplating a lineup studded with sophomores.

Texas has a respectable 3-1 record, but how about a little sympathy for Royal anyway, and not just because of Saturday's 48-27 trouncing by Oklahoma.

Royal has lost the following regulars for at least one game—in most cases more—with injuries: Split end Jim Moore, tackle Julius Whittier, tight end Rick Davis, quarterback Eddie Phillips, defensive ends David and Craig Arledge, linebacker-defensive end Stan Mauldin and halfback Don Burris.

Even Phillips' sub, Donnie Wigginton, was banged up against Oklahoma and is doubtful for Saturday's clash with Arkansas.

These winners competed in the Zone PP&K competition Saturday, October 9 in Arkadelphia. Leim was the winner of the 8 year old group; Elledge the winner of the 9 year old group and Moore was the winner of the 10 year old group. They were competing with boys from Camden, Glenwood, Texarkana, Arkadelphia and Gurdon.

Leim, Elledge and Moore will go to Memphis October 23 to compete in the District PP&K Contest.

The above six winners were guests of Hope Auto Company for breakfast Saturday morning at the Town & Country restaurant before they left for Arkadelphia.

Oklahoma Jumps in Grid Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oklahoma, powered by a 48-27 triumph over highly regarded Texas, has vaulted into second place behind Nebraska in this week's Associated Press college football poll.

The Cornhuskers, defending national champions, tallied 40 first-place votes and 1,056 points from the nationwide panel of 55 sports writers and broadcasters who make the selections.

Oklahoma garnered eight first-place votes and 888 points in soaring from eighth to second place. Michigan received four first-place votes and 880 points for third, replacing Texas, which tumbled to 10th.

Alabama failed to receive any first-place votes but climbed from sixth to fourth after bombing Vanderbilt 42-0. Auburn slipped from fourth to fifth despite a 27-14 victory over Southern Mississippi and Colorado, a 24-14 victor over Iowa State, went from fifth to sixth.

Some Sport Continues in Ireland

By MALCOLM BRODIE
BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Sport is continuing on a restricted scale in strife-torn Northern Ireland but is losing thousands of dollars because of the political unrest.

International soccer games, normally played at night under floodlights before big crowds, have been switched to the afternoons.

There are no buses running in Belfast at night and scarcely a night passes without a bomb being planted or shots being fired in the center of the city.

It's certainly no place for sports fans and two Belfast soccer clubs have had to quit their stadiums.

Some horse racing meets have been cancelled because jockeys from the Republic of Ireland declined to compete. Amateur boxing clubs in Belfast have been closed and an amateur international boxing match between Northern Ireland and Russia was called off.

Thousands of soccer fans will lose the chance to see Wednesday's vital European Cup of Nations game between Northern Ireland and Russia at Belfast's Windsor Park Stadium.

Normally the match would be held in the evening before a crowd of perhaps 25,000. But it will be played instead at 4 p.m. when most of the fans will still be at work. Officials doubt they will get a gate of much above 10,000.

The soccer clubs turned out of their homes were Distillery and Derry, both part-time professional teams which play in the Northern Ireland League. Distillery's stadium, Grosvenor Park, is right in the center of a riot flashpoint area. Derry play at Brandywell Stadium, in the heart of riot-torn Bogside. The club moved out after a mob had hijacked a visiting team's bus and burned it.

Indoor sports—table tennis, billiards and ten-pin bowling—are continued with a reorganized and restricted program. Weekend amateur sports like rugby union, field hockey and Gaelic football also are continuing. But from time to time they have to cancel games because visiting teams from Britain or the Republic of Ireland prefer not to venture into this troubled land.

Notre Dame whipped Florida 17-0 to remain seventh while Georgia rose from 10th to eighth after dumping Mississippi 38-7.

Penn State destroyed Army 42-0 to remain ninth.

Arizona State went from 12th to 11th by crushing Colorado State 42-0. Rounding out the Second Ten are Louisiana State, Ohio State, Tennessee, Stanford, Arkansas, Toledo, Washington, Florida State and Purdue.

Robinson Is Hero of 2nd Oriole Win

By HAL ROCK

Associated Press Sports Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — There is an even increasing feeling about the 1971 World Series that the Baltimore Orioles have traveled this road before—as recently as last October.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, their pitching staff worn and torn, returned home for today's third game of the best-of-7 Series hoping to stall what seems to be a determined Oriole march to a second straight world championship.

Steve Blass got the starting assignment today after the Orioles had battered six Pirate pitchers for 14 singles and an 11-3 victory Monday for a 2-0 lead.

Brooks Robinson and Frank Robinson each collected three hits in the romp that had the Pittsburgh bullpen relief cart operating like a shuttle bus.

The damage absorbed by the Pirate staff was reminiscent of the 1970 series, when Cincinnati's pitching fell apart and the Orioles won in five games.

But there is another parallel: The Birds took 14-game winning streaks into the World Series both last year and this—11 straight at the end of the regular season followed by three-game playoff sweeps.

The streak reached 17 games before the Orioles lost in the fourth game of the 1970 Series and was at 16 today. But the current string doesn't dominate Baltimore's thinking.

"We concentrate on what's next," said Frank Robinson. "Next for us is the third game of the Series. After that, we'll think of the fourth and a sweep."

Frank, who has had five hits in Baltimore's two victories, said that the Orioles approached this Series with a quiet confidence that stamps them as a mature ball club.

"We were sure about ourselves before the playoffs and before the Series," said Robinson. "But we're not overconfident. We're happy to have won two games but we know we need two more."

"We're a mature ball club. We're professionals. When we get going like this, we're tough to stop."

The Pirates found that out Monday when a blitz of base hits—eight of them in the fourth and fifth innings when Baltimore sent 19 men to the plate and scored nine runs—put the game out of reach early.

It was a distinct contrast to Saturday's opener when the Orioles used home runs by Merv Rettenmund, Don Buford and Frank Robinson for a 5-3 victory.

"In the playoffs, my finger stuck on the long ball button; today I pushed the singles button and I couldn't get it off," kidded Manager Earl Weaver, often called a push-button pilot.

Weaver revealed that the Orioles started the winning streak after a meeting following three tough losses in Detroit.

"I called the coaches together Sept. 18 and we went out for steamers and frog's legs," said Weaver.

"We decided," he continued, "preparing to let the world in on the secret of the club's success, 'to let (coach George) Stallor take the line-up card up to the plate. We also decided to have faith in the team because they can play baseball.'"

The Orioles proved it Monday. They got a gritty pitching job by Jim Palmer, who worked eight innings and left 13 Pirates stranded on base. Richie Hebner's three-run homer in the eighth accounted for the only Pirate runs and that was much too little, much too late.

By the time Hebner connected, the Orioles had singled Pittsburgh into submission. In the second, hits by the Robinsons sandwiched around a walk to Ellie Hendricks made it 1-0.

In the fourth, Frank Robinson singled and a walk and hit batsman loaded the bases. Dave Johnson singled for two runs, finishing Pirate starter Bob Moose.

Bruce Kison relieved and walked two batters, forcing in another run before Bob Moose came on to get the Pirates out of the inning.

Moose didn't make it through the fifth as the Birds bunched six more singles—two by Rettenmund, tying a single-inning Series record—two walks and an error for six more runs.

Froehling's Defeat Is Meaningless

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Romania's Ilie Nastase defeated Frank Froehling III of the United States Monday in the meaningless finals of the Davis Cup Challenge Round for the world's tennis championship.

The Americans won the cup Sunday by capturing a doubles match to go with two earlier singles triumphs in the best-of-five competition.

Army Pfc. Stan Smith had won the singles matches for the U.S. and played on the winning doubles team.

Nastase and Froehling began their play Sunday but rain forced a postponement with the Romanian leading. He finally beat Froehling, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., 6-3, 6-1, 1-6, 6-4.

In a singles match Saturday Froehling had beaten Ion Tiriac in a remarkable comeback after dropping the first two sets.

After crowds of about 7,000 on the first two days of play, only 400 showed up Monday. Officials let everyone in free.

Davis Cup rounds won't be the same next year. Every country's players will play in preliminary rounds, instead of those of the defending champion nation waiting for other countries' players to survive elimination play for the final challenge matches.

The U.S. win was its 23rd in the 71-year history of the cup.

three runs batted in, added two walks to his three singles and tied a Series record shared by Babe Ruth and Lou Brock by reaching base five times in a nine-inning game.

And to cap the performance, Brooks made a sensational stop to throw out Manny Sanguillen in the eighth inning. Again it was reminiscent of the 1970 Series when the Reds couldn't get anything past Robinson at third base.

It was enough to discourage the most optimistic manager and Pittsburgh's Danny Murtaugh was understandably reserved.

"We're going back and regroup," he said. "We've been in these situations before."

The problem for the Pirates is that Baltimore has been in the same situation as it was in today. Like last year, for instance.

In the fourth, Frank Robinson singled and a walk and hit batsman loaded the bases. Dave Johnson singled for two runs, finishing Pirate starter Bob Moose.

Bruce Kison relieved and walked two batters, forcing in another run before Bob Moose came on to get the Pirates out of the inning.

Moose didn't make it through the fifth as the Birds bunched six more singles—two by Rettenmund, tying a single-inning Series record—two walks and an error for six more runs.

Wood Returned to QB Post for the Owls

HOUSTON (AP) — Philip Wood is right back where he ended last football season—he's the Rice Owls' starting quarterback.

New head Coach Bill Peterson switched the senior from McKinney to defense in spring training.

But he was back at quarterback before the end of spring drills although he lost the starting job to Junior Bruce Gadd.

But Monday, Peterson said he would go with Wood this week in the opening Southwest Conference game Saturday against Southern Methodist.

In discussing the quarterback switch, Owl quarterback coach Tobin Rote said "Philip has a little more speed and he is a pretty good runner." Gadd threw nine interceptions in the Owls' first four games.

"Wood and Gadd are going to jell someday," Peterson said. "We have to be able to throw the football. But we have not come along like we should have as a passing football team."

"Last week we went back to fundamentals," Peterson said. "We worked on what we must do to stop those mistakes."

"We took a serious approach too," said defensive coach Bob Ross. "We felt like we played ny Murtaugh talked with reporters, he gargled some blue mouthwash, then said: "I don't want my breath to smell, too. Really, I chewed tobacco a little more than usual today."

One of the reasons for Murtaugh's heavy chewing was Moose's pitching.

When Moose entered the game, replacing rookie Bruce Kison, in the fourth inning, the music box in Memorial stadium piped the song: "Pools Rush In."

When he left in the next inning, the melody was: "It's Too Late, Baby."

"At least the guy upstairs knew what he was doing," said Moose.

Losing pitcher Bob Johnson, when he was asked before the game how he was feeling, said: "This isn't the Vietnam war. They don't shoot you if you don't win, do they? They just give you better things if you win."

His after-game reaction was short, and not quite as cheery as Moose's.

"I'd like to have a shot at them," Johnson said. "That's all I'm saying. I'd like to face them one more time before the Series ends."

Down two games, the Pirates welcomed the return home.

"See how well we do over in our orchards," said Murtaugh. "They had the home advantage here. We all like to play at home, especially after losing two in a row here."

Murtaugh recalled the three Pirates losses when they won the 1960 World Series. The losses were by the scores of 12-0, 10-0 and 16-3.

B Boys Win in Final Quarter

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Playing scoreless football the first three quarters, the Hope B-Bruins decided that the fourth quarter was theirs as they marched down the field to score and then used a ferocious defensive charge in the late going to come away winners, 7-0, over Prescott.

Both teams had various opportunities to score during the game driving deep into enemy territory or capitalizing on other mistakes, but each time someone's defense proved good enough to stop the drive.

Hope received the starting kickoff with the ball resting on the Bruins own 37 yard line as they began play.

Using the running of Melvin Weston, the Bruins moved up the field to the Prescott 44 yard line. After quarterback Buddy Ingram connected with Jerrel Coleman for a 21 yard pass gain, the Hope offense stalled failing to make up lost yardage on a penalty. For the rest of the first segment each team ran four plays and punted.

Moving into the second stanza, Prescott took over on their own 30 yard line after a Bruin possession, set up by Tim Hogans' interception, stalled.

Mounting a drive, the Curley Wolves gained yardage on sweeps down to the Hope 16 yard line. Three plays later after netting only one yard the Wolves left short a fourth down pass and the Bruins took over.

However, after moving up to their own 49 yard line, Hope suffered an interception that was carried down to the Bruin 15 yard line with 1:13 left in the half. Getting in five plays, Prescott only lost ground with the aid of a penalty and the hard rush of the Bruin line. At halftime the scoreboard read a 0-0 score and a promise for a good second half ballgame by both teams.

With Prescott taking the second half kickoff at their own 43 yard line the Wolves went exactly nowhere in four plays and a punt gave Hope the ball at their own 31 yard line.

With the B-Bruins not able to get anything going either, both teams started kicking out of trouble with Prescott losing a little ground each time.

With 17 seconds left in the third period, Weston fielded a punt at the Prescott 45 and returned it 12 yards to the 33. A pickup of one yard by Ingram to the Prescott 32 sent both teams trading ends of the field for the start of the fourth and final quarter.

With Robie Boyd now operating as the Bruin field general Hope used the running of Weston and an 11 yard scramble by Boyd to move down to the Curley Wolf two yard line.

After a loss of two yards, Boyd hit Ingram with a quick pass on third down for the tally with 7:42 left in the game. Ingram added the PAT for a 7-0 Hope lead.

With Hope kicking off, the defense went in and did a superb job the rest of the way hurrying Prescott's pass attempts and batting down several passes.

Outstanding on defense was Jimmy Smith, who knocked down several passes and was all over the field, Jack Turner, Tim Hogan, Harold Collins, and Ingram.

Hope's next scheduled B-game is Monday night, here, against Ashdown. Also, tonight there will be a Booster Club meeting and all who sold membership tickets are asked to please bring them in.

Thursday night the Bobkittens travel to Nashville for a 7:30 p.m. contest. The Kittens are presently 2-0-2 and are led by a hard charging defense. They're practicing hard and preparing for win number three.

Pistol Pete Will Miss Some Games

Pistol Pete Maravich, whose presence on the Atlanta squad caused many problems at the start of the 1970-71 National Basketball Association season, will not be in the Hawks' starting lineup tonight as the league begins its 26th campaign.

Maravich, the highest scorer in major college basketball history, is suffering from infectious mononucleosis. He missed the last week of the exhibition season and has been placed on the injured list, meaning he will miss at least five games.

Last season, Maravich's first in the NBA after a brilliant career at Louisiana State University, the Hawks, favorites to win the Central Division title, got off poorly, winning only 17 of their first 41 games.

Then, after they adjusted to Maravich—and vice versa—the Hawks won 17 of their final 26 games and made the playoffs for the seventh consecutive season under Coach Richie Guerin.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Historians have estimated that during the 3,467 years since 1496 B.C. there have been approximately 230 years of peace throughout the civilized world. The World Almanac notes that of history's numerous wars the longest was the Hundred Years War (1338-1453) between England and France.

The late Charles Lochridge, one of the great players of the '30s and '40s, made his last tournament appearance in the Eastern knock-out team game a few years ago. His team lost in the second round, although Charley gained 20 IMPs by locating the queen of hearts at a no-trump grand slam.

Charley was a fast player. He ran off 10 tricks in clubs, spades and diamond. No one discarded a heart until East produced one at trick 10.

Brain Cells Cannot Heal

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—Two years ago I had a stroke, not severe, thank goodness, and I recovered the use of my hand and could walk with a walker in a short while. But my leg is heavy and I drag my foot when I walk. Can you help me? Would circulation pills help? I've heard of some people taking them and I would appreciate any other help you can give to us folks.

Dear Reader—A stroke commonly means that an area of the brain has been damaged. Usually this is from a clot or related mechanism that plugs an artery to part of the brain. So the real disease that causes the problem is in the blood vessel.

The brain and spinal cord cells that are destroyed cannot be regenerated like a broken bone or many other parts of the body. Since almost all of our functions can be pinpointed to a specific part of the brain the area damaged determines if a stroke victim is paralyzed, can't speak or has other problems. To illustrate, there is a small spot on the surface of the left side of the brain that is the central point for controlling the right leg. When you want to move the right leg impulses pass from this point, cross over to the left side of the spinal cord and eventually stimulate the right leg muscles to control movement. This sounds simple but it involves the integration of many complex signals to relax some muscles and contract others in a smooth fashion. If these cells in the brain are damaged you may not be able to move the leg at all.

Sometimes other cells in the brain that escape injury take over the function of the damaged ones or can be trained to replace them. A good example is speech. You can develop another area for speech in some cases, but it takes a long period of training. I suspect there is much yet to be learned in training the brain to take over functions of areas that have been damaged.

A stroke patient needs to have particular attention to the development of his muscles by special exercises so he can make the most of his ability and prevent, in so far as possible, crippling or loss of function.

Regarding circulation pills, if a person has high blood pressure it is sometimes advisable to treat this to prevent further changes in the blood vessels and possible further damage to the brain. There are other medicines that are given to help the brain function when the circulation is poor. No generalization can be made. The things that prevent heart damage from blood vessel disease apply, equally well to strokes, preferably before they occur. This means, no cigarettes, prevention of obesity, proper diet, limited in any kind of fat or saturated fat, avoiding too much cholesterol and getting proper exercise.

ley had finessed successfully against West's queen and checked up 2,220 points.

East, a young expert, asked, "Did you know that I had started with four hearts and my partner with three?"

"Yes," said Charley. "I also knew the straight mathematical odds were 4-3 in favor of your holding the queen, but I have watched you in action for several hands and you are good enough to have discarded a heart at your first chance should you really be sitting with the queen. Of course, had you thought I was anything but an old man playing out of his depth, you might have double-crossed me."

East smiled sheepishly. "Have you ever played in this event before?"

"Yes," said Charley. "I won it four times before you were born."

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Father to the Rescue

Suppose a man sees his son being beaten up by the neighborhood bully. Does he have a legal right to use force in his son's defense?

He does indeed. Parallel to the right of self defense is the right to defend the members of one's family, with force if need be. This doctrine goes all the way back to the days of feudalism, when the master of the household was legally entitled to protect his family from attack.

But in such situations, there is always the chance of escalating the violence. Therefore, the law places careful limits on this right of family defense.

1) The force used must not be excessive. For example: A father found his son involved in a fracas with the man next door. Rushing to the rescue, he knocked the man unconscious with a mighty blow on the head. Then he followed up with a swift kick in the abdomen.

For the resulting internal injuries, the father was duly held liable in court. The right to defend his son, said the court, did not include the right to kick someone who was lying on the ground unconscious.

2) The force must be used only to defend, not to "get even." In another case, a father found out that a certain teacher had slapped his son in class. Days later, meeting the teacher on the sidewalk, he punched him in the nose.

Could the father be held liable? Again, yes. The court said that since the boy was in no danger at the time of the punch, the father's action could not fairly be called defensive.

3) Many courts add that the father's right to use force is no greater than the child's. Thus: A belligerent teen-ager deliberately picked a fight with another youth. But by the time his father came along, he was already getting the worst of it. The father promptly slugged the other boy with a rock.

Such later for damages, the father claimed he had acted to protect his son. But the court held him liable anyhow. The court said that, in terms of the right to use force, he "stood in his son's shoes" that is, in the shoes of the aggressor.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL ELECTION

Notice is hereby given that an election will be held in the City of Hope, Arkansas ("City"), on the 9th day of November, 1971, at which there will be submitted to the electors of the City the question of issuing City of Hope, Arkansas, Industrial Development Revenue Bonds ("bonds") under Act No. 9 of the First Extraordinary Session of the Sixty-Second General Assembly of the State of Arkansas, approved January 21, 1960, as amended ("Act No. 9"), in the aggregate principal amount of not to exceed $1,500,000 for the purpose of furnishing the permanent financing of the cost of securing and developing industry. The bonds will be dated, will bear interest at such rate or rates, interest will be payable on such dates, the bonds will mature on such date or dates, the bonds will be subject to redemption prior to maturity in such manner and upon such terms, and the bonds will be issued at one time or in series from time to time, all as the Board of Directors shall subsequently determine and specify in the ordinance authorizing their issuance. The proposed industrial project will consist of lands, buildings, improvements, machinery, equipment and facilities for an industrial plant ("Project"), and the proceeds of the bonds will be sufficient to pay the Project costs and necessary incidental costs and expenses and the cost of the issuance of the bonds. The Project will be owned by the City and will be leased to Tennessee Forging Steel Corporation, a Virginia corporation, or a subsidiary, for lease rentals sufficient to provide for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds. If the Project is leased to a subsidiary, all obligations of the subsidiary will be unconditionally guaranteed by Tennessee Forging Steel Corporation. The bonds will not be general obligations of the City but will be special obligations payable solely from Project revenues, including particularly lease rentals under the Lease and Agreement referred to above, which will be specifically pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds, and the bonds will be secured by a lien on and security interest in the Project as authorized by Act No. 9.

Only qualified electors of the City of Hope, Arkansas, will have the right to vote and the electors may vote either for or against the issuance of the bonds.

The election will be held between the hours of 8:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. at the following polling places in the City of Hope, Arkansas, to wit:

No Decision by ABC After Hearing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Alcoholic Beverage Control Board held a hearing all day Monday into charges that a Conway County liquore store, the Conway County Liquor Store, had sold liquor to minors on several occasions.

The hearing was called at the request of Sheriff Marlin Hawkins of Conway County, who has been holding a campaign in the county to cut down on drinking drivers.

Officials of the commission said they would decide later whether to revoke or suspend the license of the store.

One youth, Russell Toney Jr.,

20, of Morrilton, testified that he had bought liquor at the store.

He said he had been arrested, but was told by Morrilton Police Chief Leo Denton if he made a purchase at the liquor store he would not have to pay his fine.

Toney said he made the purchase and returned with the beer to the police station.

In his testimony Hawkins said he had called a meeting of liquor store owners in July to urge their cooperation in his campaign.

Cayce B. Smith, Associate County Extension Agent, is installing the officers and leaders of the Greenhill 4-H Club that was organized October 5 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Wilson.

TOM DUNCAN

Hope Lions heard a progress report on Hope Foods Company Monday during the weekly luncheon at the Town and Country.

Program Chairman, Jack Caldwell, introduced Tom Duncan, President and General Manager of the new poultry processing plant, who explained the processing of their first product, Lady Hope Chicken.

The company experienced a six week delay from a windstorm while the plant was still under construction, but operation began September 7, 1971.

Mr. Duncan explained the picking and cleaning process in considerable detail, but the outstanding fact was that one man could pick feathers from 3,600 chickens per hour using the advanced system.

After picking, the chickens are

Tuesday, October 12, 1971 carefully cleaned and trimmed, placed in a can with salt and water added, sealed and cooked in the can in a large cooker.

Mr. Duncan said that cooking in the can prevented any loss of flavor that might occur if large kettles were used.

Each steam heated cooker cooks 456 canned chickens per load. During the cooking period of eighty minutes, pressure in the cooker must be just right because if it is too low the cans swell and if too high the cans collapse.

After cooking, the temperature is brought down and the cans are allowed to dry, then labeled and stored for distribution. At present about 10,000 chickens are being processed with four cookers. Eight cookers are installed and the plant was designed for the output of twelve cookers when needed.

The new plant now employs seventy five to eighty persons.

During a question and answer period, sales areas, water consumption, new products, and other topics were discussed. Under new products, chicken and dumplings and canned boiled eggs were discussed.

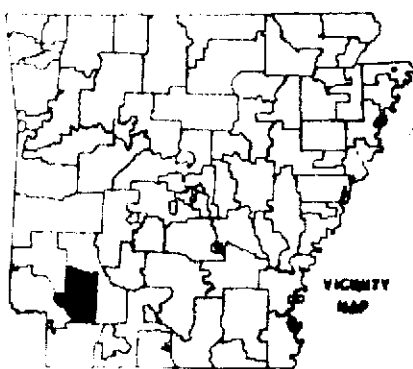

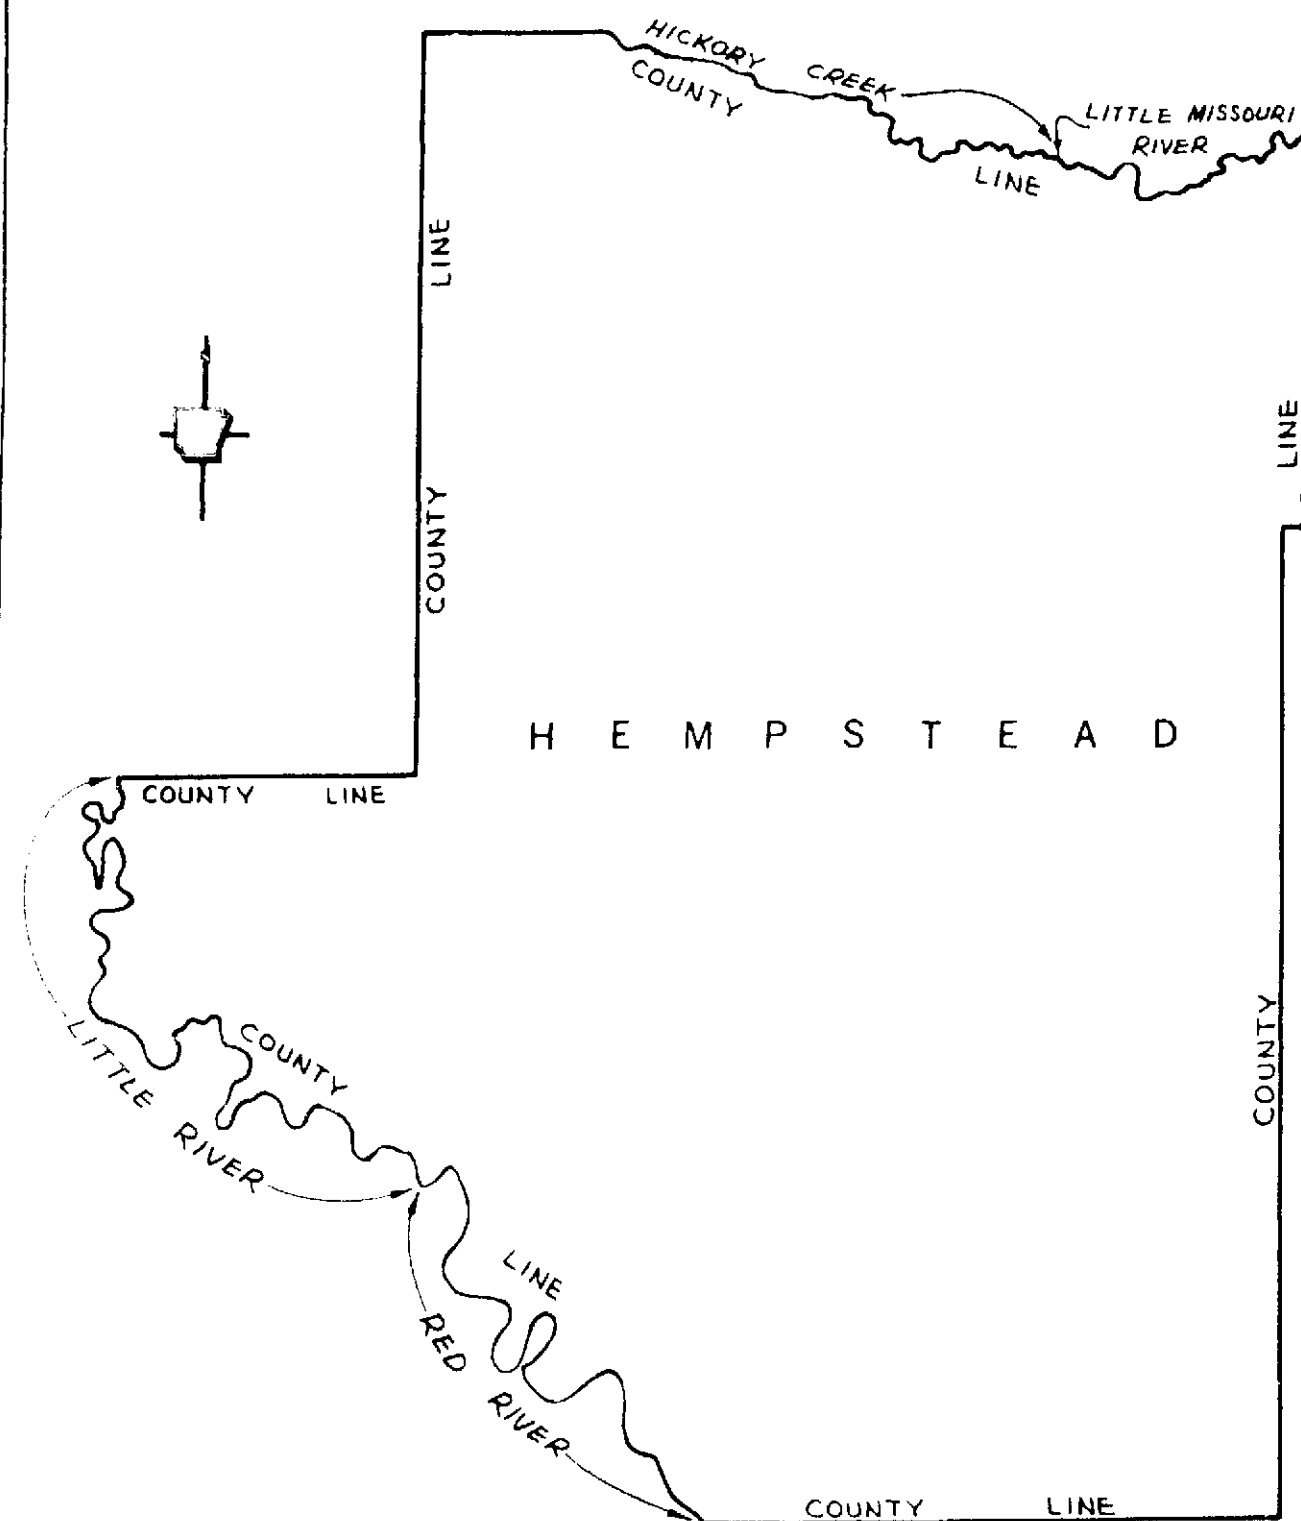

Donald Stanley, new member of Anderson-Frazier Insurance staff was a visitor at the luncheon.

Lion Dale Wylie was presented his pin and credentials proclaiming him a Hope Lion. Dale is associated with Cornbelt.

Lion David Still reported that the Light Bulb Sale was a sell out and that forty two members reported for work. The Hope Lions are grateful to the people of Hope for their continued help in maintaining the sight conservation program.

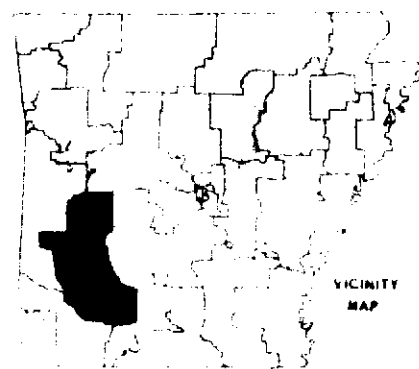

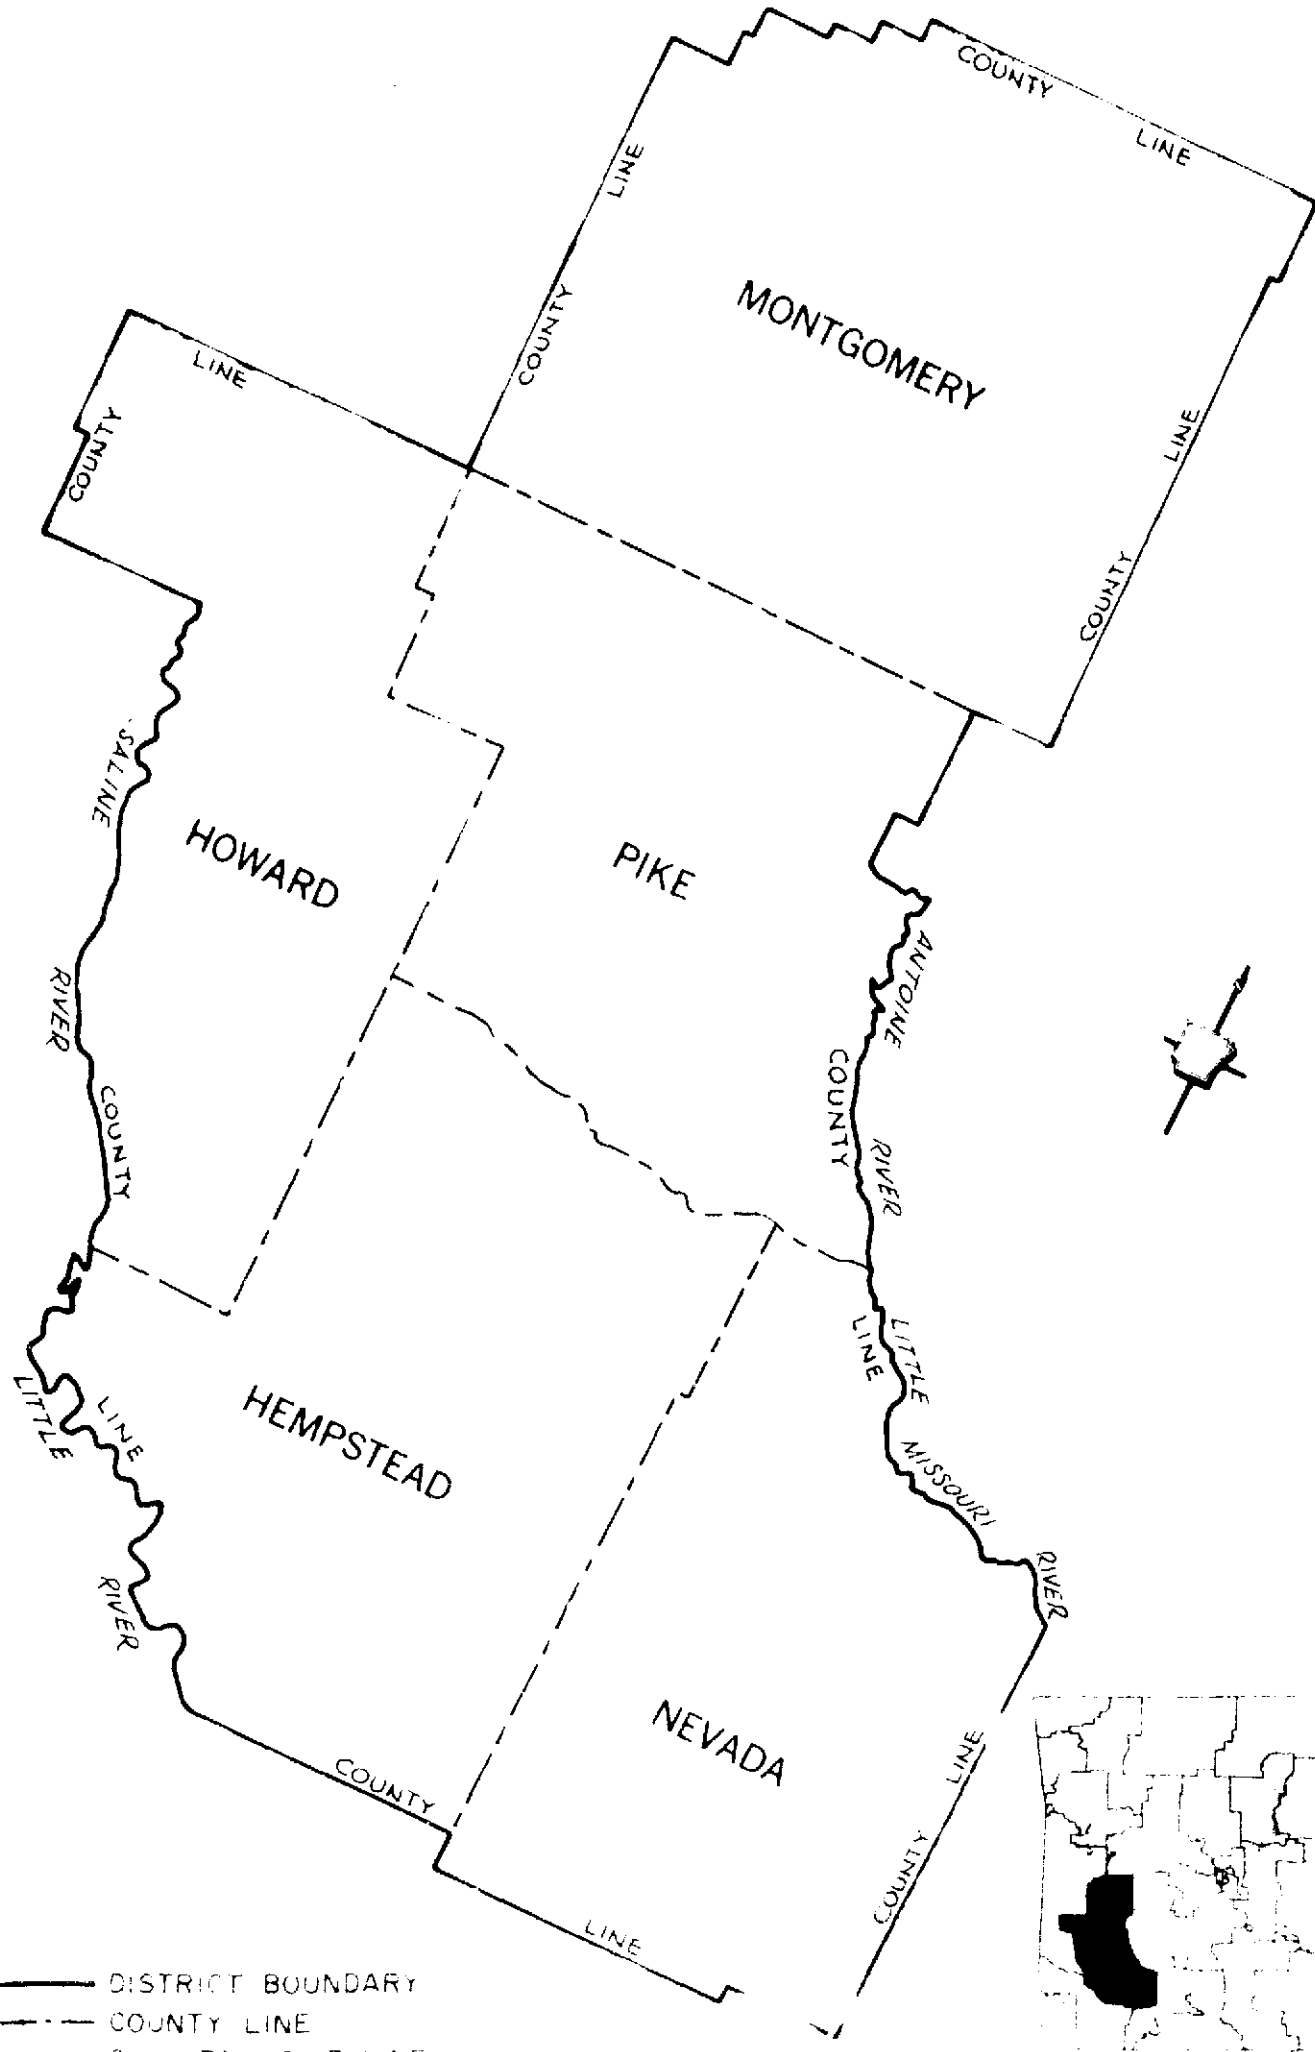

President Harry Cagle read a letter of thanks from the Tarrant County Association for the Blind, Fort Worth, Texas, for hospitality extended to their group when they stopped in Hope recently, and enjoyed Hope watermelons.
